

Mrs. Lively & Mrs. Scott's November 2018 Newsletter

Literacy

During the month of November we will finish learning the letters Ii, Tt and Jj. We will then begin learning the vowels a,e,i,o and u. The children will learn how the vowels make a long and short sound. We will continue learning concepts of print (how we read) and story elements (predicting, characters, etc).

Writing

We will continue learning the formations of the weekly letters. Please continue to practice writing these letters at home as well. Let me know if you need the "Handwriting Without Tears" guide that shows the correct formation of the letters. This month we are also learning about what good writers do. Pictures and words work together to tell a story and we will work to put both of these in our writing.

Math

This month we will be reviewing 3 dimensional shapes. We will revisit patterns, counting, sorting and 2 dimensional shapes. Please have your child count things around your house and ask which number is more and which is fewer or less.

Science/Social Studies

This month we will be learning about the history behind the first Thanksgiving and the tradition of giving thanks.
